

The Pipeline

Monday, January 11, 2021

Who's hiring

Fair winds for Fair Value

We had the lowdown for you last year on issues facing emerging managers, although that hasn't stopped Fair Market Value Capital Partners, the outfit launched last year by former IFM Investors executive director Frederic Michel-Verdier.

The firm last week appointed Dalmore Capital associate Yasin Alimam as an investment executive, as it aims to leverage on his experience on deals including Anglian Water and the Thames Tideway 'super-sewer'. Michel-Verdier also said this investment team expects to have a further three additions over the next six months.

He added in a statement that Alimam's appointment will help in "expanding our reach into Asian and Middle Eastern markets".